expolinc BROCHURE STAND

Easy to take out publicity materials

Tidy functional arrangement

...that is the new Expolinc brochure stand. The brochure stand's high-grade design and perfect workmanship make it unique.

Just two quick turns and the brochure stand is set up and secured by an ingenious locking mechanism at the back.

Once set up, the brochure stand has a lot of room on the smallest of floor spaces for brochures, catalogues and the like. Thanks to the four prospectus trays one behind the other, publicity materials up to the DIN A4 format can be easily taken from the front.

The principle is as easy as the implementation is perfect. The prospectus trays are made of particularly fracture-proof polycarbonate; all parts are bolted to each other. The stable base ensures there is the necessary stability – even under hectic trade fair operations.

The various documents and files remain in their compartments during transport; in this way they are fully protected and ready for use at any time. A padded bag eases moving the brochure stand around and also provides optimum protection.

Specially selected materials and a top-quality surface give the Expolinc brochure stand that professional look. Attractive and discreet – at an unbeatable price!
